PEPE SAYA BUTTERY

PEANUT BUTTER

The Pepe Saya family has got a little bit bigger and a touch chunkier this week, with Chunky Dave's Peanut Butter becoming part of the family!

We met Dave at the farmers markets years ago. We would see him every week at the markets and always have his peanut butter in the cupboard.

We love Dave and we love his peanut butter, so when he came to us about Pepe Saya taking on Chunky Dave's, we knew it was the perfect fit.

THIS ONE IS FOR THE PASTRY CHEFS

We are proud to present our new line of buttersheets—whey butter buttersheets!

Whey butter is made using cream that is separated from the whey during cheese-making, creating a whey cream. The whey cream is then churned into butter, creating a nutty, creamy and sharp flavour. It's perfect for baking, with its true flavour releasing with heat and with a minimum fat content of 83%.

Whey butter is highly prized in Europe, especially in baking. In France it's called beurré de lactosérum (butter of the whey), with many French patisseries using it in their croissants. In England it's called whey butter or farmhouse butter. It's not something you will find on the Australian market, so we are working with a blank canvas and 100% Australian cream.

IMPOSSIBLE™

PUT ME ON YOUR MENU

- BOOST TRAFFIC
- ATTRACT NEW CUSTOMERS
- IMPROVE SAME STORE SALES

MEAT ON A MISSION

People love meat. After all, it's delicious and they want to keep eating it. But they're looking for a better way. So we made Impossible™ Beef Made From Plants: meat made from plants, for people who love beef mince. Delicious and better for the planet.

Every pound of Impossible Beef Made From Plants (instead of beef mince from cows) uses:

- LESS WATER
- LESS GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSIONS
- LESS LAND

ANY WAY YOU WANT IT

Spiced, sauced, braised, grilled, you name it — if you know how to cook beef mince, you know how to cook Impossible Beef Made From Plants.

ImpossibleFoods.com/Sell-Impossible

GOOD FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Putting Impossible™ products on your menu can drive your sales revenue, foot traffic and brand perception.

Customers have experienced:

+26% YoY Impossible Beef sales, indicating new customer growth (Gott's Roadside in the U.S.)[1]

+26% lift in sales in the first few weeks (Umami Burger in the U.S.)[2]

+10% increase in check average[3]

69% more sales on average per location than leading competitor[4]

We're here to help. Whether it's training, guidelines, or marketing materials — our team has you covered. To see what we offer, check out: ImpossibleFoods.com/Foodservice.

MADE FOR EVERYONE

92% of Impossible Foods consumers in the US eat meat from animals.[5]

THE IMPOSSIBLE FOODS DIFFERENCE

Delicious, mouthwatering meat with the sizzle and taste you love — made from plants. It's packed with 18.8 g of protein per 113g serving and is a good source of iron and fibre — but contains no animal hormones or antibiotics. It's also made with far fewer natural resources. Impossible Beef Made From Plants: better for the planet, good for your business.

IMPOSSIBLE™ PORK MADE FROM PLANTS

- BOOST TRAFFIC
- ATTRACT NEW CUSTOMERS
- IMPROVE SAME STORE SALES

THE IMPOSSIBLE FOODS DIFFERENCE

Impossible™ Pork has the taste you love from pork, made from plants. Brought to you by the team that made the Impossible™ Beef, Impossible Pork is a delicious alternative for people who love meat — or in this case, pork from a pig. Impossible™ Pork cooks, sizzles and handles like pork mince from pigs and is preferred by consumers[1].

Each 113g serving of Impossible Pork provides:

- 17.7g protein
- Good source of zinc, niacin, calcium, and vitamins B6 and B12
- 100% animal-free
- No Animal Hormones or Antibiotics

MEAT ON A MISSION

Compared to a pork from a pig produced in Australia, Impossible Pork Uses:

95% Less Land

51% Less Water

88% Less GHG Emissions

1. In a blind taste test of 205 consumers in Hong Kong, 54% preferred Impossible Pork Made From Plants to ground pork from pigs.

GOOD FOR YOUR BUSINESS

We have a track record of creating strong business results for our partners. Putting Impossible™ products on your menu can boost your sales revenue, brand perception and foot traffic.

55% more sales than the leading competitor per restaurant location[1]

30% increase in new product trial rate[3]

26% YoY sales, indicating new customer growth[2]

125% of sales goals achieved at launch[4]

COOKS LIKE MINCED PORK FROM PIGS

Impossible Pork cooks, sizzles, and handles like pork mince from pigs. Made for any recipe that calls for minced pork—from chilli to meatballs, dumplings, stir fry and much more. Impossible Pork works perfectly in traditional pork cooking methods (steam, boil, stir fry, braise/sear, deep fry, bake, grill, simmer) and is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 71°C. Plus, compared to ground pork from Pigs, Impossible Pork delivers up to 31% more yield when cooked.[1]

Majestic Cinemas were searching for a new drinking straw option after numerous complaints from customers that our existing paper based straws were melting into their drinks during the movie and had an awful feel in your mouth after a few sips. Our winning solution were the straws from Little Green Panda. We'd recommend Little Green Panda straws to everyone who wants to give their customers a great drinking experience whilst meeting the demands of keeping the environment clear from plastics and pollutants.

SEA SALT

COLLECTION

PROUDLY AUSTRALIAN OWNED AND MADE

EYRE PENINSULA - SOUTH AUSTRALIA

MACROBIOTIC SEA SALT

The sense in which Olsson's has used this term refers to products or food that have had a minimum of human intervention in their manufacture or production. Macrobiotics is about food from the Earth. It is based on the Eastern ideal of achieving harmony between yin and yang. And while rooted in ancient tradition, the idea of the macrobiotic dietary approach is a remarkably modern way of eating.

Unlike common salt (which is just sodium chloride), natural Sea Salt (from sea water) contains sodium as well as other many important trace minerals in a balance similar to the extra cellular fluids in the body. One of the key benefits of Macrobiotic Sea Salt is that sea water (from which Olsson's Macrobiotic Sea Salt is made) has a relative mineral composition almost identical with that of the blood, so when sodium is excreted from the body, other essential minerals salts such as potassium, magnesium and trace elements are also excreted.

OUR FAMILY STORY

The Olsson family have been in business in Australia since 1888. Olaus Olsson arrived in Australia from Sweden in 1878.

By 1888 Olaus had opened a grocery store in Parramatta and by 1906 he and his sons began delivering blocks of ice to homes in Western Sydney.

In 1949, Olaus's youngest son Norman and his two sons, Charles and Malcolm formed Olsson Industries making pressed mineral and salt blocks for livestock as a direct result of requests from graziers for someone to produce supplements to meet the nutritional needs of their sheep and cattle during the severe drought that started in 1947 and continued until 1952.

The idea of buying a salt-press was formed when Norman heard rumours about a demand for pressed salt supplements in the sheep industry which was booming at that time.

Olsson's first salt block was produced the next year, in 1950, in a shed just west of Parramatta. It was the first pressed salt block produced in Australia to contain a range of minerals and was the forerunner, of all the multi-nutrient blocks produced in Australia.

To service their growing business with salt, Charles, Malcolm and their father Norman purchased the leases to Pacific Salt works in 1957 in Warooka, Yorke Peninsular, South Australia. And then in 1964, Charles and Malcolm took over the leases of the salt works from BHP north of Whyalla, Eyre Peninsular, South Australia.

In 1983, Charles, Malcolm and their cousin Don Olsson commence building a new solar sea salt plant in Port Alma (near Rockhampton) QLD which took five years to complete.

MAKING OUR PRISTINE SEA SALT

The Olsson Family has been making solar sea salt in Australia since 1957. Olsson Pacific is the oldest family owned and operated sea salt maker in Australia.

Solar salt is produced by the action of sun and wind on seawater in large ponds. Olsson's solar salt works are located in Queensland near the Great Barrier Reef and in South Australia near the Great Australian Bight. These areas are such beautiful places to make sea salt. Pristine Australian water, sun and wind work in harmony to create the gorgeous Australian sea salt taste we all love. Olsson's sea salt flakes are unique because of our location. Because Olsson's sea salt has as its only ingredient seawater from two of the world's most pristine oceans, the result is one of purest sea salts available. There are no chemical processes involved in the manufacture of our product, which is why we can guarantee that it is perfectly natural and pure.

Olsson's Sea Salt proudly launched their sea salt flakes in 2012 with great success in the Australian gourmet community. The ancient tradition of making sea salt into flakes is a closely guarded secret and has taken over a decade for Olsson Pacific to perfect.

In 2013, Olsson's launched their macrobiotic sea salt and the much anticipated Black Truffle Salt at the end of the truffle season (September). In late-2015, word got out that the Olsson's Smoked salt (72 hours on Red Gum) was almost market ready and the launch date was set for August 2016.

SALT & PEPPER

SALT

Olsson's Macrobiotic Sea Salt is unprocessed, unwashed and unrefined. This pure salt is made by the action of sun and wind on sea water from the Great Barrier Reef and the Great Australian Bight, remaining free from additives or preservatives and retaining many natural sea minerals and trace elements.

PEPPER

Mountain pepper is found naturally in the cold high country of Australia. Australian Native Pepper or Mountain Pepper is a traditional "bush food". It is similar to conventional pepper with unique herbal and floral elements.

These two beautiful products have been packaged into natural, unbleached kraft stock sachets and inserted into a kraft envelope printed with our signature stripes and our historic photo of the Olsson's family in front of the Olsson's Grocer, Parramatta Sydney.

The Olsson family have been proudly serving Australians since 1888.

Our white corn is grown locally in NSW

You can't make a great taco without a great tortilla. And not all corn tortillas are created equally.

We craft our tortillas from beginning to end, starting with the raw corn kernel, grown by local farmers. No imported 'instant' tortilla flour, no masa harina. Just whole grain corn: cooked, soaked overnight and stone-ground on site, all within 24 hours of being flame-baked into fresh tortillas. This is the way it's always been done by the Aztecs and Mayans, and the way it's still done today in the villages of Mexico. It's like the difference between instant coffee and freshly ground real coffee. It's hard work, it takes longer, but it's worth it.

Harvest Australian grown corn

Cook whole grain kernels in water and lime

Soak overnight in limewater to release the nutrients

Stone grind in the molino (mill)

This makes masa (dough)

Press and cook tortillas

Stack in piles

Corn Tortillas

Available in white corn or blue. Our white corn tortillas have an authentic yellow appearance, and the strength, malleability and real corn taste that comes from making them from scratch. Our blue tortillas have a slightly sweeter and nuttier flavour that tastes as good as it looks.

NATIVE FRUIT POWDERS

100% NATURAL • GMO FREE • VEGAN • NO FILLERS

This powerful group of native fruits are so rich in vitamins, minerals and antioxidants, that it surpasses many renowned superfoods, and sets new global standards for nutrition and taste. Over the last 5 years, The Australian Superfood Co. has worked with local growers and indigenous communities to source and supply the highest quality nativ

FINGER LIME

The size of your little finger, but packing a HUGE nutritional punch with high levels of folate, Vitamin E and potassium. The Finger Lime is an unusual fruit that'll add a zesty vibrancy to any dish – try it with seafood!

QUANDONG PEACH

Funny name, delicious flavour! These sweet, glossy plums are packed with protein, complex oils, iron and zinc. While you can eat them fresh off the tree, we're selling them in Freeze Dried packs so you can add them easily to cakes, juices and fruit salads.

MUNTRIES

Muntries are small native fruits, reminiscent of blueberries, that grow on a low shrub or ground cover. With a spicy apple taste, muntries boast more than twice the antioxidant profile of a blueberry. Highly valued by the Aboriginal people in Victoria and South Australia, the fruit was an important part of diet, and the dried lather exchanged for valuable tools.

ROSELLA

Rosellas are a bright red flower with a unique tart flavour, reminiscent of rhubarb. Common throughout parts of Queensland and northern Australia, Rosellas were not originally native to Australia, rather introduced thousands of years ago from Africa. Nonetheless, they were utilised by Indigenous Australians for generations as a form of nourishment and medicine, given their high antioxidant properties.

DAVIDSON PLUM

Davidson Plum is a nutrition booster with high antioxidant properties. Davidson Plum's aroma evokes Rosella jam and stewed rhubarb, while its flavour is a delightful balance of tart and sweet with intense fruity overtones. It is a great addition to desserts, smoothies, homemade jams and sauces or simply as a natural red food colorant.

DESERT LIME

Growing to the size of grapes, the Australian desert lime is a small fruit with an intense, zesty flavour. Boasting three times the amount of Vitamin C than oranges, desert lime is also a very rich source of calcium, folate, Vitamin E and lutein. It also has a high potassium to sodium ratio, which may help to reduce blood pressure.

KAKADU PLUM

Our favourite, the Kakadu Plum A.K.A the Bush Plum. The Kakadu Plum is a nutrient-rich, antioxidant powerhouse boasting the highest Vitamin C levels of ANY fruit in the world! It's a tart little berry that is best enjoyed in small portions. We love it with homemade muffins or in smoothies.

RIBERRY

Medicinal AND delicious, the Riberry is rich in manganese and an important plant source of calcium. It can be enjoyed on a fancy cheese plate, stirred through Greek yoghurt or even squashed over ice cream! A slightly tart, spicy flavour with hints of sweet honey.

NATIVE HERBS & SEEDS

100% NATURAL • GMO FREE • VEGAN • NO FILLERS

This powerful group of herbs & seeds is so rich in vitamins, minerals and antioxidants, that it surpasses many renowned superfoods, and sets new global standards for nutrition and taste. Over the last 5 years, The Australian Superfood Co. has worked with local growers and indigenous communities to source and supply the highest quality native produce available. Also available in 80g, 250g, 500g, 1kg and 10kg bags.

LEMON MYRTLE

The Queen of lemon herbs! Lemon Myrtle has a fresh aroma of citrus and a delicate menthol essence, with a sweet and refreshing lemon flavour. This herb is bursting with antioxidants and calcium and contains the highest concentration of plant citral in the world! A delicious flavour enhancer for savoury dishes (especially fish, lamb and chicken) and also wonderful in baking and enjoyed as a tea.

CINNAMON MYRTLE

With a mild cinnamon aroma and flavour this herb can be used in place of regular cinnamon whenever a recipe calls for it. It's great in curries, stews and middle-eastern dishes, desserts such as crumbles, cakes, pies, muffins, and as a herbal tea. It's known to treat dyspepsia, heartburn, colic and digestive issues.

ANISEED MYRTLE

Rich in magnesium, lutein, folate, Vitamin E & Vitamin C, this herb has a subtle liquorice flavour and is wonderful in teas, syrups, cakes, biscuits, dressings, sauces and ice cream's. Aniseed Myrtle has high antioxidant activity and has been shown to have anti-fungal and anti-microbial properties. It has also been found to have very high quantities of the compound anethole, which has shown to help in treating conditions such as anorexia and reflux and to help settle intestinal cramps, colic and flatulence.

WATTLESEED

A little bit nutty (aren't we all?) and chocolaty with a roasted coffee aroma and touches of sweet spice, raisins and chocolate. It has a savoury, nutty, wheat-biscuit flavour. Wattleseed has high concentrations of potassium, calcium, iron, zinc & protein. It's a low glycaemic food, which releases it's sugars slowly and can be used by people with diabetes to help maintain blood sugar levels. Dried, roasted and crushed, our powder con be used in baking, sauces or as a decaf coffee replacement -- just add hot water!

OLD MAN SALTBUSH

Old Man Saltbush is a fast-growing, edible shrub native to most arid parts of Australia. Traditionally used as a food source by the Indigenous Australians, the seeds and leaves of Saltbush are collected and ground for use in damper and to flavour foods. The leaves are also commonly eaten fresh or added to meat while it cooks. Salty in flavour and rich in protein, antioxidants and minerals, Old Man Saltbush is ideal as a herb or sprinkle or as a direct substitute for salt.

STRAWBERRY GUM

One whiff of this herb and you'll want to add it to everything! It's fruity like strawberry or passionfruit but also slightly balsamic. This herb has high antioxidant, anti-fungal and antibiotic properties and has proven to assist with balancing micro flora of the gut.

SANDALWOOD NUTS

Grown on the inside of the fruit born from Australian Sandalwood (Santalum spicatum) trees, Sandalwood nuts are Australia's second native nut behind the Macadamia. Utilised for centuries by Indigenous Australians, Sandalwood nuts were consumed as a cure for rheumatoid arthritis and the oils inside applied topically to skin to aid with inflammatory conditions and body aches. Today's research reinforces what was long known by Aboriginal Australians. Sandalwood nut is rich in oils containing ximenynic acid, one of the rarest fatty acids found in the world and hailed as a powerful anti-inflammatory and anti-aging superpower. High in protein and fibre, with minimal carbohydrates, the nuts are also extremely high in monounsaturated omega 9 fatty acid – known to increase good cholesterol, reduce blood pressure and eliminate build up in the arteries

MOUNTAIN PEPPER LEAF

With on aroma of pesto and a spicy, earthy flavour, this herb is great in dressings & marinades or in place of regular pepper whenever you want to spice things up! Mountain Pepper Leaf is one of the native species that exhibits outstanding antioxidant capacity, which have been shown to assist in preventing and delaying Alzheimer's disease, autoimmune and cardiovascular disease, cancer and diabetes. The leaf also contains Vitamin E, lutein (a compound that plays an important role in eye health and wellbeing), zinc, magnesium, and calcium.

MOUNTAIN PEPPERBERRY

Deep in colour, rich in aroma and packed with antiseptic properties, the Mountain Pepperberry is a rare and treasured native spice. Its high antioxidant capacity has been linked to the prevention and delay of cancer, diabetes, Alzheimer's, autoimmune and cardiovascular disease. It also contains high values of Vitamin E, iron, zinc, magnesium and calcium. Aside from its use as a medicinal wonder spice, this berry will take any savoury dish to the next level with its hot and spicy flavour. Add it to curries, marinades, salad dressings or spice rubs for magnificent colour and elevated taste.

WATTLESEED

Wattleseed was a mainstay in the diet of Indigenous Australians for much of their history. Wattleseed is known for its ability to survive tough weather conditions and provide a valuable source of protein and carbohydrate. It has a nutty, mild chocolate flavour and aroma. It's ideal for adding to your coffee, casseroles, sauces and desserts.

STRAWBERRY GUM

Bursting with fruitiness, Strawberry Gum is sweet and slightly acidic like Balsamic Vinegar. Its fruity undertones have shades of cinnamon, strawberry and passionfruit. Add it to your desserts, chutneys or cocktails for a sweet berry flavour that you won't be able to resist.

ANISEED MYRTLE

Aniseed Myrtle with its strong licorice scent was traditionally used for its fragrance, but it is so much more! Besides its myriad of health benefits, it has a subtle sweet licorice flavour enriched by an aniseed menthol aroma. Licorice lovers rejoice! This extract is ideal for using in dressings, marinades, cocktails, savoury dishes or desserts. We love pairing it with chocolate or orange flavoured desserts!

LEMON MYRTLE

Lemon Myrtle has a refreshing lemon menthol aroma and tantalises with its intense sweet lemon flavour. It is brimming with antioxidants and is considered the "Queen" of lemon herbs. Whether it is roast chicken, dessert, sauces or tea, one teaspoon of this extract will provide a sweet and zesty flavour to any dish!

MOUNTAIN PEPPER LEAF

With an aroma of pesto and a spicy, earthy flavour, mountain pepper leaf is the perfect addition to dressings, marinades and sauces. Mountain pepper leaf is a nutritional powerhouse, exhibiting outstanding anti-oxidant capacity including the phytonutrient lutein, proven to enhance eye health and general wellbeing. The leaf also contains Vitamin E, Zinc, Magnesium and Calcium.

LIMITED EDITION FRUITS, HERBS & SEEDS

Introducing the Limited Edition range, a unique, nutritious and delicious range of Australian native ingredients, that are a little harder to come by. While we are working on increasing supply of these lesser known natives, we want to continue to support Indigenous communities and local growers and increase awareness and accessibility of all native produce. Through the Native Harvest Initiative, we are working alongside our Indigenous communities and local growers to increase availability of many of these products. Available in 80g, 250g, 500g, 1kg, 10kg. Please contact our sales team for quantities available, samples, quality documents, and certifications.

BUNYA NUT MEAL

Bunya nuts are large smooth seeds found inside a fibrous kernel within football-sized pinecones that fall from the evergreen coniferous Bunya Pine. Roasted or ground, the nuts taste sweet and are starchy similar to chestnuts or potatoes. With a low glycaemic index, and containing protein, potassium and magnesium, the nuts have had cultural and culinary significance for Aboriginal Australians for thousands of years.

SUN DRIED BUSH TOMATO

Bush Tomato (Solanum centrale), also known by its Aboriginal name Akudjura, is a small, round fruit with a strong flavour and smell. Initially distinctively raisin or caramel in flavour, Bush Tomato has a strong spicy aftertaste. Rich in antioxidants and minerals, including selenium, Bush Tomato is considered one of the most important of all the Central Australian plant foods.

FREEZE DRIED, MILLED MUNTRIES

Muntries are small native fruits, reminiscent of blueberries, that grow on a low shrub or ground cover. With a spicy apple taste, Muntries boast more than twice the antioxidant profile of a blueberry. Highly valued by the Aboriginal people in Victoria and South Australia, the fruit was an important part of diet, and the dried fruit exchanged for valuable tools.

DRIED, MILLED ROUND LEAF MINT

Round Leaf Mint is a strongly aromatic herb, native to the moderate, cooler areas of South-Eastern Australia. With earthier tones, less sweetness and a slightly citric tang, Round Leaf Mint is a superior native substitute for common oregano. Used traditionally as a medicinal herb for treating headaches and colds, it is more commonly used today as a culinary herb.

DRIED, MILLED PEPPERMINT GUM

With a strong, sweet mint aroma and taste, Peppermint Gum leaves have been used in Australia for centuries as a flavouring and also for their fragrant smell. The minty fresh leaves are said to improve concentration, enhance liver function, and calm the digestive system. Aboriginal Australians also used the leaves to make a tea to treat fevers.
